Beet growers whose gardens yield the usual small, puny kind should seek some advice from Mrs. Walter J. Saathoff, who lives five miles west of Hondo on Highway 90.

Mrs. Saathoff grew some whoppers herself, and should be able to give at least a few helpful hints to those who are interested. She brought two beets by The Anvil Herald office, one of which weighed, 31/2 pounds and measured 181/2 inches around.

The "small" one was just 16 inches in circumference, and Mrs. Saathoff said her garden had a lot of that size.

Nine Receive Diplomas From D'Hanis High

By Mrs. Amos Finger

D'HANIS - Nine high school seniors received their diplomas in the D'Hanis School Auditorium Friday evening, May 19, at 8:15

The invocation by Rev. M. J. Lorfing was followed by the salutatory, "Preparation for the World," by Arthur J. Raney. Beatrice Ney, valedictorian, used for her topic, "Education Seeks a New Working Principle."

Frank X. Vance of Hondo delivered the commencement address. Speaking to the class of their great heritage as Americans. he listed for them the guarantees of American liberty which are unique in the world today as they serve to uphold the dignity of the individual man and to help him fulfill his purpose in life.

War Too Expensive

About 60 American businessmen, chiefly Republicans, took a 10-day orientation course to study U.S. armed strength last week, part of the time with President Truman attending. They studied all branches of U.S. defense, from the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va., to the infantry at Fort Benning, Ga., to a trip on a submarine-all as part of Louey Johnson's plan to build teamwork between the military and bustness. Here are the things that impressed them most.

The prohibitive expense of war. It is so costly that not even Russia and the United States may be able to afford it.

The fact that President Truman's picture appeared in no military installation except an enlisted man's club.

The likelihood that the B-36, designed for bombing trips across the arctic, may soon be obsolete.

Harry Truman's contagious homeyness.

Probability that modern weapons will make it impossible for nations to reach each other. They may have to fight long distance, across oceans.

Truman Wins

Ninety per cent of the businessmen taking the free orientation course started as vigorous anti-Trumanites. They ended the opposite. After lunch at Fort Benning, the president said: "I'm going to shake hands with all of you. I'm pretty good at it by this time." He demonstrated how he pulled callers through the receiving line.

That evening at Eglin Field, Fla., the group dined at the non-commissioned officer's club where Sergeant James T. Hopkins gave Truman a glowing introduction.

"That was so good," replied the president, as he rose to speak, "that I think I'll take Sergeant Hopkins to introduce me on my 'strictly business' tour through the northwest." He referred to his inspection tour of Grand Coulee dam.

Who Can Afford War?

At Fort Benning the businessmen saw the equipment for one infantry division alone, and gasped at its cost-$180,000,000. This is more than the cost of financing the League of Nations for 20 years for 55 nations. In Caesar's day the cost of killing one man was only 50 cents. Now it costs $55,000 per man.

That's why nations like France have decided they cannot afford modern military equipment; also why almost no nation can now afford war. It means bankruptcy.

One new weapon carried by U.S. infantry is a recoilless gun, firing from the shoulder, carrying a distance of five miles with the power of a 75-MM, field artillery cannon. In brief, two infantrymen now carry almost as powerful artillery as bauled by six mules and six men in World War I.

Equally revolutionary were developments in airplanes. The air force's F-86, a new fighter, can now carry the same bomb load as the B-17, once the chief bomber of World War II. But the B-36, considered the means of carrying the atomic bomb to the enemy, may be made out of date by a new secret weapon that could knock it out of the skies.

Another secret weapon connected with the atomic bomb may soon make it impossible for Russia to invade western Europe. Meanwhile, guided missiles are making such progress that the time is not far distant when nations will fire at each other across the Atlantic. There will be no more hand-to-hand combat.

Frank State Department

Business executives were impressed with the frank briefing on U.S. diplomatic policy given them by the state department's George Kennan.

"The battle for Europe is the battle for Germany," he said. "And frankly we aren't doing too well Other Kennan brevities there.' were: "When the Stalin-Molotov team was running things, we used to know what to expect in Russia. Now we don't know who is running things Vishinsky is a puppet, not the real foreign minister . . . . We must preach some other solution besides war. If we don't, no third power will follow us . . . we must try to bring other powers, if possible minor powers, in as leaders, so we can play lesser roles."

Chairman of the joint chiefs of staff Omar Bradley was equally frank. When asked, "what happens if Russia takes over Western Europe?" He replied: "If by that you also mean the Mediterranean, the answer is nothing. We settle down to a war of attrition."

"Are we going to abandon Alaska, as some radio commentator predicted?" was another question.

The Aleutians, Bradley answered, are not important enough to defend. Alaska would be defended from two interior bases.

Yancey Harvesters Take First With 11-7 Win Over Sinclair

Jaycees Edge D'Hanis, 4-1, Tied For Third

Yancey took over undisputed first place in the Hondo Softball League Wednesday night as they overcame an early Sinclair lead to win 11-7. The victory settled the one-two positions of the League for the first round.

The Jaycees continued their climb upwards in the standings as they moved into a tie for third place with the Flying Horses with a 4-1 victory over D'Hanis

What started out to be a pitcher's duel between Bill McCutcheon and Allan Nelson ended in a slugfest after Sinclair moved out front 7-2 in the sixth inning. The Harvesters came back in the fifth on Johnny Faseler's threerun homer. Ray Nixon hit a double scoring two runs in the sixth to put them in the lead, and six runs crossed the plate before the side was retired.

Wildness on the part of the D'Hanis pitcher gave the Jaycees a two-run lead in the fourth inning as five consecutive men were walked. Calvin Bendele doubled in Ferd Rothe in the sixth to aid the D'Hanis cause, but Sam Meyer's four-bagger and Mike Larkin's hit scoring McNiel clinched the game for the Jaycees.

Hondo Has a New Yardstick

The Hondo National Bank Building is a yardstick by which Hondo will measure new business buildings from this day forward. For too many years much business in Hondo has been done on the basis of "what's good enough for grandfather is good enough for us," and there is no more certain way to slip backward in the continual struggle for expanding trade.

As you inspect the new building, we especially invite you who love fine furniture to notice the director's chairs, the executive chairs, carpeting and the fine walnut executive desks. We are proud to have helped in equipping the new bank.

Congratulations and best wishes to the officers and directors for this forward step.

Fifty YearsOF GROWTH AND PROGRESS

Fifty YearsOF CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING

Congratulations to the officers, directors and employees of the Hondo National Bank. They have given Hondo a "new look" in business building, and have given all of us new ideas about the future of this city.

Hondo banking has been advertised in every issue of the Anvil Herald for the past fifty years, and we are proud of the part that we have played in carrying their advertising into the homes of Medina County. Best wishes for another fifty years-and more-of continued growth and prosperity.

SOME THOUGHTS AND THINGS ABOUT BANKERS AND BANKING

While Hondo has had banking facilities since 1901, use of the same is recent, comparatively speaking.

The time is well remembered when there was no such institution in the county.

In those times, the man fortunate enough to have more money than he could conveniently carry around in his pocket, and who realized that it was unsafe to bury it, deposited that surplus with his favorite supply merchant.

Such a hold did this practice have on the people, some persisted in it after the facilities of chartered banks were available.

All was well that ended well but when the favorite merchant, from any cause "failed," it was just too bad for the trusting depositor for he was virtually without recourse for recovering his money.

There are people living today who remember to their sorrow the lack of safety in such a

Aside from its insecurity, there was a lack of convenience that one accustomed only to modern banking practices can scarcely

For instance, the county designates a bank as the depository for the county's funds; here the county's funds are deposited subject to check by the county treasurer in payment for all approved county accounts.

To this treasurer, to illustrate, a teacher in the county schools, presents his salary voucher for payment. The treasurer hands him a check (a county warrant) on the bank, the recipient takes his check to his favorite bank and deposits it to his account, receives a pad of blank checks from his banker and pays out his funds as needed by giving checks drawn against his deposit. Neither he nor the treasurer ever see the cash, all in one lump amount. Save for a little "change" for convenience of the depositor, the money stays safely locked in the bank vaults, business is done by an exchange of "checks" for goods or services and the bank keeps track of it through a multitude of figures in a lot of big books.

Funny business, not? Yet decidedly convenient - and safer than lugging the money around in your pocket or hiding it in an old sock! By way of contrast between the old and the new system, here is a personal experience in point.

When the writer began his career of some five years as a country school teacher in the fall of 1896, he had accumulated two vouchers for his first two months of teaching before he could come to the county-seat to cash them.

Arriving here, he found the treasurer, Mr. C. B. Leinweber, in the office in the rear of the building now occupied by Dawson's "5cto-$1.00" store where, in addition to his duties as county treasurer, he was keeping books for the merchant (We think it was J. A. Miller, the man who had erected the store building) then doing business there.

Presenting his vouchers, duly anthenticated by his trustees, the total of the two amounting to $56.00, Mr. Leinweber glanced at them and remarked that they were in order and he could pay them but that the entire amount would have to be paid in silver as there was no paper currency on hand. It was accept payment in silver or go away moneyless and await another trip to town, a trip that could not be too frequently or conveniently made with the travel means then available. Accordingly, Mr. Leinweber turned around, opened the company safe - which evidently served also as the county depository - and counted out fifty. six silver dollars. The recipients left-hand pocket held it conveniently enough, but the weight of the mass of silver caused him to limp away, sagging considerably towards the left side. He truthfully avers that no other amount of money ever caused him greater embarrassment.

How many of our younger readers know the weight of a silver dollar or ever saw 56 of them in one pocket?

When Hondo's first bank was established, it was the practice of the Federal government to require the bank to invest its capital stock in government bonds and then deposit those bonds in the treasury of the same government which sold them. For this recurity, the government permited the bank to issue a certain per cent of the value of those bonds - later, if not then, it became 100 per cent - in paper bills of certain denominations which circulated as legal tender money any where in the United States.

One of the officers of the newly formed organization later admitted that be was so poorly informed about the banking business that he did not know this authority was a function of his bank until they were organized. These bills came to the bank in a bundle of printed sheets containing several bills on each sheet. They had to be cut apart and each bill be signed by the President of the bank before it was legal tender. This paper then had a sixteen inch paper cutter and on more occasions than one Mr. Jones, the president, stood near-by and kept careful watch over the printer as he cut the crisp new bills apart and made them ready for the bank to pass them out at the cashier's window into circulation.

The banks haven't that privilege any longer. During the administration of President Woodrow Wilson, The Federal Recerve Banking act revised the National Banking laws and took the privilege of issuing their circulating notes from the little National banks and gave the big Federal Reserve banks a monopoly of issuing circulating notes. Your paper money now, if not a "silver certificate" is a Federal Reserve Another amusing incident, showing how reluctant men are to break away from long accustomed practices and, also, how vindictive some men can be, occurred when a large draft against a local merchant showed up at the bank for collection. The merchant, having done business with city banks aforetime, tendered his own draft on a San Antonio bank in payment. The amount was large and the slip of paper with the merchant's name looked small to the man in the bank-heretofore accustomed to dealing in cash and not orders to pay - and be demanded the money.

Incensed at such a procedure, the merchant rushed down to San Antonio, secured the entire amount in silver coin, hauled it out to Hondo and paid the draft

That was too much silver and the bank had to ship the surplus coin to its San Antonio depository by express and pay transportation charges. The merchant's checks were good at the bank thereafter.

In all the banking days in Hondo, unlike many towns in Oklahoma and some adjacent points thereto in Texas, the town has never suffered a daylight robbery. On two unfortunate occasions, however, there have been two burglaries within the writer's memory. On the first occasion, as we recall, both banks were robbed on the same night. On this occasion the telephone wires had been cut near the exchange, and considerable time seemed to have

Early History of Hondo Banking

Medina County's first chartered bank, The First National Bank of Hende, was established in 1301.

Previous to that time, it was the practice in Hondo, as it was in most other towns in this part of the state, for one or more prominent merchants in the town to accommodate their customers by acting as a depository for the surplus funds of those who accumulated more cash than they shed to risk keeping outside of a locked safe.

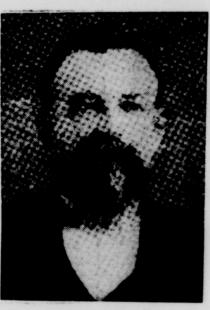

Such a system was based chiefly on the confidence of the depositor in his merchant a n d friendship between the two.

Obviously it was lacking much, both in the safety and the convenience afforded by a bank for transacting business.

The rapid expansion and growth of business in Hondo made the inconvenience of this system more acute and emphasized the need for a change.

In answer to this demand, a group of local capitalists subscribed a capital stock of $25,000.00, secured a Federal charter and opened a bank to do business in Hondo in 1901.

We are not able to give the ist of stockholders here, but from among the stockholders, there were selected the following Officers and Directors: George W.

ISAAC H. KING President Hondo State

Jones. President: Ed de Montel. Vice-President; Isaac Wilson, Cashier; and Rolf Frerichs, E. R. Leinweber and I. L. Martin, together with the officers, constituted the Board of Directors.

Mr. Jones had been in the mercantile business as senior partner in the firm of Jones & Roberts. He devoted his entire time to the business of the bank until his death in 1915 or '16, when he was succeeded in the presidency by John M. Finger who had worked his way up to that position from that of assistant-cashier. Mr. Finger continued as president until the reorganization in 1936.

Ed de Montel was for many years a practicing attorney in Hondo, and served as Vice-President during the bank's existence as the First National.

Isaac Wilson had been an accountant and book-keeper. He served as cashier until failing health forced his retirement from the bank. He afterwards became the owner and operator of the City waterworks.

Rolf Frerichs was a retired capitalist, was a pioneer settler in Hondo from Quihi, where he had been in the mercantile business. He established and owned for some years the town's first water system.

E. R. Leinweber began his business career in the early days of the town as a saloon man, afterwards built, the county's only three-story business house and he also built the building now occupied by Fly Drug Company. He took an active part in the affairs of all three of Hondo's banks.

I. L. Martin was a resident of Uvalde County and at the time was district judge. His presence on the Directorate lent prestige to the organization.

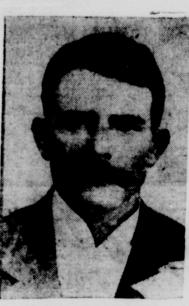

The bank opened for business in a small, one-story, rented building then standing on the southside of a two-story building, both facing west on Bandera Avenue, now Avenue M.

Both buildings were of brick and were among the first business houses erected in Hondo. The two were later razed by Ray L. Jennings in 1938 to make room

Attend Open House for the erection of his Raye

The bank occupied these small quarters until 1906. During these intervening five years, however, it had flourished and in addition to its capital stock boasted a surplus of $5,000.00.

Feeling the need for larger quarters, plans were made in the early spring of 1906 for the erection of a commodious twostory brick on North Front Street, now 18th. At the same time, Rolf Frerichs erected a twin structure along-side of the bank building. If correctly informed, both buildings were erected by Contractor Gus Birkuer and are constructed

Hondo's only plate glass doors are in this building, along with a 19 ton vault door that swings so smoothly that it can be moved with the touch of a hand. The vault that is behind this door is made of 18 inch concrete reinforced with steel, and would be quite an obstacle to burglars. The Hondo State Bank was incorporated under the State Banking Laws of Texas, was capitalized at $30,000. It opened for Business on August 27, 1906, in the same building on Bandera Avenue, now Avenue M, that had been but recently vacated by the First National when that injustitution moved into its own building on North Front St.

The new bank flourished and soon outgrew its cramped quarters. Within the next year it erected its own attractive building, near the one it was occupying and moved into it in 1907, where it remained domiciled until the merger of 1936. The building has since been occupied by the post-office.

HONDO NATIONAL BANK

Both banks had thrived from their inception and both rendered a commendable service to the public which they served; they proved by their success that there was a place for two to serve the community.

But the period of the 1930's was an uncertain time for banks everywhere, and without the general public ever knowing all the reasons why or the necessity for a change, The Anvil Herald of January 31, 1936 carried an announcement of a coming merger or consolidation of the two local banks.

The new institution was to open with a capital stock of $50,000 and a $10,000 surplus fund.

The following issue, that of February 7, carried Comptroller J. F. T. O'Connor's Official Notice, bearing date of January 31st. authorizing the Hondo National Bank to do business.

Under the following heading, the same issue of the paper carried this front page announcement:

Mr. John M. Finger, former president of the First National Bank, succeeded Mr. J. H. Burgin as Secretary-Treasurer of the Hondo National Farm Loan Association. We are not informed as to the future business plans of Mr. H. F. King and Mr. J. R. Chancey, formerly president and

Among the pioneer cattlemen of Medina County were the Rothe Brothers, Fritz, Henry, Louis and August, who came to Texas in 1854 with their parents, Heinrich and Emilia Rothe and their sister, Ernestine.

Leaving their home in Bavaria, the family spent 66 days at sea, finally landing at Galveston. They first settled on the Medina River near Castroville, with their relatives, the Wurzbach family.

In 1864 the brothers made a three year contract with Richard Reily at Fort Lincoln whereby he employed them for one third of the cattle increase during the three year period. They later established a partnership ranch business which expanded until they divided their interests in cashier of the Hondo State Bank. The officials and the employees of the new institution are experienced men and, aside from the fact that they are backing up their faith in the enterprise with their money, their knowledge and experience assures careful and safe management."

Thus Hondo's two pioneer banks lost their names and their separate identity and their business merged into one under a new name.

In the shuffling of the re-organization some of the stockholders are said to have suffered losses which could not be recouped, but save for the State Bank's doors remaining unopened that Monday morning, so far as the depositors and the general public was concerned business seemed to go on with the same general routine, so easily and skillfully had the transition been achieved.

The success of the merger can they could pry open in both banks. On the other occasion only the First National suffered. The burglars effected entrance into the vault by removing some brick from the wall enclosing the safe, but must have been frightened away for they left an acetylene gas tank just outside the window through which they had entered.

Both jobs seemed to have been the work of professionals for they made a clear getaway on both occasions. Fortunately their leet was not excessive and on one occasion the chief damage was to private safety deposit boxes, the owners losing whatever seemed of value to those who rifled them and having valuable papers damaged and scattered about.

One of the most shameful and inexplicable incidents of the first robbery was that, among the articles taken from the box of Mr. Griffis, was a registered U. S. Government bond. Through means of the register serial number, the bond was traced back to the United States treasury where it had been cashed. But according to our information, the Treasury never identified the payee or reembursed Mr. Griffis for the less of the bond. It looked like the gang, which never could be caught, though clues were followed to Memphis, Tennessee, as well as Washington all to no avail, must have had a "fence" pretty high up - and clever!

These are some of the memories that come to an old man when circumstances serve as reminders. Perhaps they will make you remember something too.

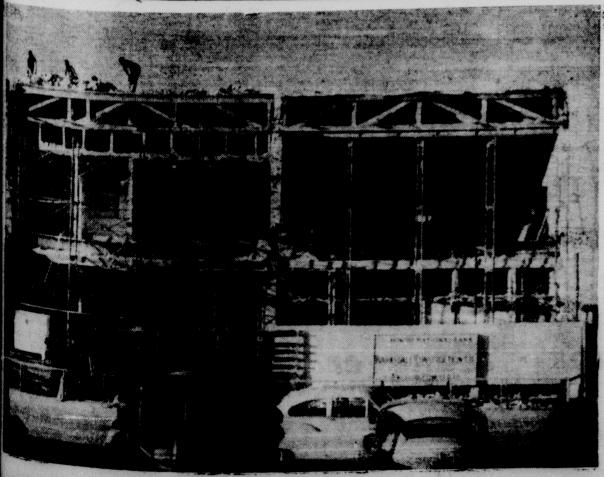

With all our relations so far with each of Hondo's three banks. we have never found but one complaint to make - and we are sure that is almost universal. We refer to its accuracy and punciuality! Every time we pass out a check it invariably comes back from the bank in due time stamped paid! That seriously limits the volume of checks we would like to write!

The Hondo National Bank building, modern and beautiful in every sense of the word, is but another of the new buildings and businesses of which we can be proud.

A growing community proves the confidence of its own people in the future, and is evidence of bright prospects to those who might be seeking a site for new business or industry.

The Bell-Kotzebue Company, San Antonio is proud that the Hondo National Bank selected Carrier, the finest air-conditioning equipment money can buy. Like many other progressive businesses, the Hondo National Bank chose Carrier units because Carrier's whisper-quiet operation filters out dust and pollen . . . dehumidifies the air and odors . . . provides year-round ventilation.

The Hondo National Bank knew the importance of installation, too. Only if air-conditioning is tailored exactly to the needs of a business and only if that air-conditioning is installed properly can it insure greater out-put, higher quality and down-the-line savings.

Baylor's Freshman Flag Still Waves

WACO. Texas. May 15 -Baylor University still is without the services of its principal flag pole despite long-continued efforts to remove a Freshman flag that has waved since March 27.

The best brains at Baylor and the best braun of the Waco fire department have been pitted against the white rag at the top of the 100-foot pole.

But whoever raised the flag for the Freshmen this year evidently wanted the emblem to fly longer than a single day. He, or they, tied the cloth securely to the top of the pole, dropped the flagraising chain to the ground, and smeared a heavy coating of grease on the pole as he slid down.

THE SECO PHILOSOPHER

BANKERS DON'T AGREE WITH J. A.'s IDEA ON LENDING MONEY

Editor's note: The Seco Philoso. pher on his Johnson grass farm on Seco Creek has another odd idea about finances, his letter this week reveals. Dear editar:

A while back when it rained right when things was getting serious and it had looked like we was in for a real drought and the newspapers hailed the rain as a million dollar one I was in town because it was Monday which is wash day out here and any man who can't think up a good excuse to get into town on that day ain't capable of thinkin, well, when I got into town feelin fine after the rain, when life takes on a brighter look and you can almost hear? the grass grow. ing and the seeds sproutin, I expected to find a similar feelin. "How's things?"

I asked a business man. "Fair." he said

"Fine rain, wasn't it?" "Sure was."

"Worth a million dollars." "Yeah, I guess so. But it ain't helped business none yet," he complained.

As I understood it, he expected us farmers to hit town the minute it stopped rainin and start spend-

Thunder. Them business men ought to be patient and recognize that while they gonna get most of my money and I'm perfectly willin to spend it with em just as long as it or my credit holds out, they got to recognize that one of the hardest things on earth to do is to convince a banker one rain is worth a new loan. Borrowin money on good prospects is one of the most envolved jobs there

I ain't never seen a farmin year yet when some time or other in it my prospects wasn't pretty good, but there ain't much market for corn or cotton or wheat or rice at that stage. There may be bankers who loan money on good farmin prospects, but either I don't know the right bankers or the bankers know too much about the history of my prospects.

I'd be perfectly willin to borrow money ever time it rains and spend it all in town the same day, but the financial structure of this country just ain't in tune with that system. It sure would make business boom, though.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Fair Adopts New Judging System

An entirely new and constructive classification system of judging will be used in the Poultry Shows of the 1950 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-22.

Judging in all shows will be based on ratings of "superior." "excellent" and "good," announced Ben E. Cabell, general chairman of the State Fair Poultry Committee.

This system will be used at the 1950 fair for the first time at any state fair anywhere, Cabell said. The system is designed to appeal to the practical, commercial poultryman.

F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist of Texas A&M College, will be general superintendent of the Poultry Department at the fair, Cabell announced. Beanblossom was superintendent of the Junior Market Turkey Show at the 1949 fair.

Since all shows at the 1950 fair are planned to encourage production of better quality meat birds and more uniform quality eggs, the consumer as well as the commercial poultryman will benefit.

Two new shows have been added this year, a Breeding Chicken Show and a Breeding Turkey Show. Junior Market Turkey and Broiler shows will also be held. A total of $2,200 in premiums includes $600 each for Breeding Chicken and Turkey and Junior Market Turkey shows and $400 for the Junior Market Broiler Show. Trophies will also be awarded.

The 1950 Premium Lists are available and will be mailed to chicken and turkey breeders, county agents and vocational agriculture teachers.

Hondo Gets A New Look

glass doors to the public next week, most of Medina County is in for a big surprise. In place of two old style, somewhat shabby buildings, one modern airconditioned structure has appeared.

The best thing about it, from Hondo's viewpoint, is not just a good looking place to go cash a check. The inportant thing is the way in which this bank is looking toward the future, and showing conclusively that it believes Hondo is going to be here for several years to come. Nobody puts the kind of be that much farther along the road to progress.

When The Hondo National Bank throws open its money spent here into a building unless there is a better than good chance to make it back.

Smart businessmen don't spend money earned in the past on a fine building just because they have made the money - they spend it to make it easier to earn money in the future.

Every business in Hondo can take heart from this structure. It is self-evident proof that our financial leadership believes in a prosperous future for Hondo. There are other business houses that may follow suit someday, and when more of them do, Hondo will

Texas Catfish Prospects Good

AUSTIN, May 25 - An Iowa man wrote this postal card to the Game Fish and Oyster Commis-

"Dear Sir: Just read an article about catfishing down Texas way, near your town to be exact. Is this just another way to get us sucktrs to spend our money or is it really a fact? Let me know honestly what the situation is. Might send me some fish laws,

The article to which he referred excitedly presented "a terse momentous message sending electrifying import to more than 20,000 fishermen throughout the nation, creating a state of delirious excitement among them." His particular reference is to the spring run of "mammoth yellow cats" in "the most famous fishing hole in Texas - the Colorado River midway between the Buchanan and Marshall Ford dams which are northwest of Austin."

The facts are that Texas has excellent catfish angling and that there are many good spots in addition to the excellent area on the Colorado.

Among the places having good catfish prospects, keeping in mind that practically all Texas rivers and streams have produced good fishing over the years, are:

Lake Corpus Christi, an artificial take, about 30 miles up the Nueces River from Corpus Christi;

A thirty mile stretch of the Trinity River from Anahuac to Liberty where the cats exist in such quantity that commercial fishermen make enormous hauls;

The first fifteen miles from the mouth of the Guadalupe River near Victoria;

Up river from the mouth of the Brazos River near Freeport.

There are many other good catfish grounds, including some on the Mexican border waters of the Most people are too reluctant to have their picture made. This simple fact may be because they feel it is a sign of egotism to have a portrait taken, and then again, it may just be carelessness. The reason this thought comes to mind is because of the great difficulty we had this week in reproducing pictures of pioneer bankers of Hondo. Some of them had left to their loved ones excellent photographs. Other families had no picture at all except perhaps a group photograph, and oftentimes even that was not a very good likeness.

In order to get a picture of some of these men, it was necessary to photograph an old group picture, then make an enlargement of the portion with the right man in it. That enlargement was used to make the engraving used in printing.

We are glad that we were able to get these pictures, by any means in our power, and hope that they will be of interest to our readers. The purpose in this article is this - no man or woman should neglect having a good picture made. Someday, someone will regret it if it isn't

TECHNICIANS BEGIN BANDING OF DOVES

AUSTIN, May 16 - Seasonal mourning dove banding, a vital phase of game bird management, is just getting under way in Texas, according to the assistant director of wildlife restoration of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commis-

Game wardens, protecting wildlife in the state's 254 counties, handle most of this work which is done while the young birds are in the nest, preferably just before they fly away. But game bioligists, lake biologists, hatchery staffs and others help out.

The bands bear a number and the words "Game Department," Austin, Texas. The wardens record the banding data. Mourning doves probably supply more hunting than any other single game specie in Texas. The status of mourning dove populations in various states also have become a source of growing concern. Banding of the birds and the return of these bands by hunters will show the life span of the doves, where they go after leaving their nests, where most dove hunting occurs and the percentage of young and old birds killed each year. All of this will help to guide the department in recommending seasons and bag limits.

Thus, from the Rio Grande to the Panhandle and from the Eastern to the District Western borders, hundreds of persons are undertaking the important routine. Some wardens enlist the aid of Scout troops and sportsmen's clubs. Wadens have been requested to spread the banding over the entire nesting season through the summer to obtain a representative record. All are pitching in enthusiastically. Approached on the subject of co-operating, a gnarled Texan replied: "I have roped cattle, ridden yearlings and handled a few snakes but this is the first time I have had the opportunity of playing 'God Father' to young birds." Science marches

Banding the young birds is just as delicate as it is important. Great care must be taken in approaching the fragile nests. Birds should be banded between the ages of three to ten days. Yet they are so nervous at the end of this stage as their first trial flight approaches that they startle easily and may flee and become

Meat and Cheese Provide Many Substantial Entrees For Those Special Meals

"WHEN I WANT to serve something substantial but not too heavy for luncheon, I run out of ideas," says a homemaker who likes to do a lot of entertaining.

There are many such dishes as this busy hostess requests. They may not be substantial enough to serve a hard working husband, but they are just the ideal entree or main dish for a special luncheon. They are all designed to look pretty on a platter. especially when you add a small serving of vegetable to make the main part of the menu complete.

SERVINGS should be kept average rather than large since these recipes contain meat or cheese and are really quite substantial for a luncheon. With them, plan to have a light salad or a combination fruit salad and dessert.

Sweetbreads a la King (Serves 6-8)

- 1 pound sweetbreads
- l quart water 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons butter 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk 1/2 cup diced celery
- 2 chopped green peppers
- 2 teaspoons grated onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 6 slices toast

Wash sweetbreads and simmer 20 minutes in water, to which vinegar and salt have been added. Drain and separate into small pieces. Make a white sauce by melting butter, stirring in flour, adding milk and cooking until thickened. Add celery, green peppers, onion, pimiento, salt and pepper. Add pieces of sweetbreads and heat thoroughly. Serve on toast.

- *Liver Rolls with Sausage Stuffing (Serves 6)
- 6 large slices liver
- 6 to 8 links cooked pork sausage 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 small onion, grated
- 1/2 cup hot water Salt
- Pepper
- 6 slices bacon

Pour hot water over the liver slices. Sausage left over from breakfast may be cut into pieces for sausage stuffing. If no cooked sausage is on hand, brown and partially cook the sausage first. Combine with bread crumbs. Season with grated onion, salt and pepper and moisten with hot water. Pile a teaspoonful of bread dressing on each of the scalded liver slices. Roll and wrap a slice of bacon around the outside. Fasten the ends with toothpicks. Place in a baking dish. Add one-half cup hot water, cover and cook slowly in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Remove the cover during the last 15 minutes in order to brown the bacon.

Potted Beef Steaks (Serves 6) 6 steaks cut from round or chuck

Flour for dredging Fat for browning 1 large onion, sliced

Hamburgers served on slices of tomato are a simple but effective main dish for a luncheon that you plan to be nourishing but not too filling.

LYNN SAYS:

These Kil ben Hints Save Time and Tempers

To keep bacon from curling while it is cooking, snip the edges with shears. Curling can also be prevented if the bacon is broiled between racks.

To keep the bones on a crown roast from burning, place the roast in a pan with the bones down, or spear their ends with pieces of fat.

To make fish firm and white, add a dash of lemon juice to the water in which it's boiled.

Potted beef steaks give a hearty luncheon dish that's full of flavor, and need only othen light foods to accompany them. Keep servings average to small.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Why "Moose" Changed His Mind

Last week, parents were calling Moose Jackson on the phone-and kids were hooting at him in the streets. All because Moose fenced in his field near the depot, where the kids like to play ball.

Moose got sore the way folks acted-refused to budge. Then Doc Sherman, who likes to play centerfield himself sometimes, decided to "use a little psychology."

Over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern, Doc says, "Sorry this came up, Moose. We were thinking of asking you to umpire-what with your professional experience and all." (Moose used to play a little semi-pro ball.)

That did it! Next day Moose put up a stile over his fence. In return. the kids promised not to cause any damage. From where I sit, when you try to understand the other fellow's point of view-like his personal preference for beer or coffee -and then take into consideration the will of the majority, why, things seem to go better all around.

MARQUIS' HOMER GIVES JAYCEES WIN OVER YANCEY HARVESTERS

CHAPMAN WINS FORFEIT GAME FROM LEGION

The Jaycees knocked the props from beneath the league-leading, undefeated Yancey Harvesters Friday night as O. C. Marquis homered in the sixth with Bobby McNiel on to give the Junior Chamber a 3-2 victory.

The game saw a tight pitcher's duel in which Bill Hemby outlasted Bill McCutcheon. The Jaycees drew first blood in the second when Marquis walked and scored on Hemby's Texas Leaguer. The 1-0 margin stood until the fourth when Yancey's Elmer Faseler came home on an error.

The Harvester hurler, Mc-Cutcheon, aided his own cause as he put his team out front 2-1 in the fifth with a home run. The Jaycees' two-run uprising in the sixth ended the scoring.

Yancey threatened in the seventh as Johnny Faseler and Willard Wilson walked, but a strike out, infield fly and a drive hit by Albert Wilson into Dick McWilliams' glove ended the con-

Hondo Lions beat LaCoste Athletics 3-1 Sunday afternoon as two veteran hurlers, Bill Wood and Dizzy Bohl, opposed each other in a pitcher's duel.

Hondo took a first inning lead as H. Finger doubled and scored when Sadler's grounder was fumbled. Bohl tied the game in the fifth when his single knocked in M. Keller, but Hondo came back in their half of the inning on hits by Parsons and Sadler to go ahead. Mangold's single in the eighth batted in Braden to end the scoring.

Wood gave up but four hits and aside from the fifth inning was never in trouble. Hondo collected eight from Bohl, and had runners on base in every frame.

YOUR HEALTH

By George W. Cox, State Health Officer

Texas' private war on venereal diseases among indigents is proceding in wholesale fashion, with over 95,000 patients having passed through State Health Department rapid treatment centers since the first center was opened in 1943.

This was the word from State Health Officer George W. Cox, who Thursday described the 95,000 as "unlucky enough to have VD, but lucky enough to have gotten attention."

"Untended syphilis can cause heart disease, mental illness, blindness, and other severe physical disabilities," the health official asserted. He asked pointedly, "See why they're lucky?"

Two state supported rapid treatment centers—Rocky Mount Hospital in Overton, and the Mission Medical Center in San Antonio — are maintained by the State Health Department for handling cases of venereal diseases in people unable to pay for private care, Cox said.

Gonorrhea, is handled in the VD clinics of local health units, rather than sending the indigents to the RTC's, Cox said.

"State Health Department policy calls for local health unit VD clinics as diagnostic centers," he said. "However, a good many rapid treatment center patients are referred there by private physicians."

Rapid treatment center personnel conduct patient education via conferences, pamphlets and motion pictures, which is, Cox said, "one of our most valuable educational processes."

"We learned long ago that educating patients while they are undergoing treatment has more retentive value than any other device we could use."

BENTSEN Reports From Washington

WASHINGTON - Filing date for the Democratic Primary passed with your Representative the only candidate filing for the National House of Representatives from the 15th District.

A fellow finds it difficult to express his appreciation for such confidence, for such trust as you have placed in him. I'll borrow the words I have heard used before which probably best express a public official's feelings when such a compliment is given him: "I love those dear hearts and gentle people that live and vote in my home district."

My wife, Beryl Ann, my sons, Lloyd III and Lan, join with me in an humble thank you.

SOUTHWEST ECONOMIC STATUS

The Department of Labor has just finished a compilation of statistics on Texas and the Southwest which are interesting.

Between 1939 and 1948 there was a 70 per cent rise of nonagricultural employment in Texas - or a total of 700,000. Manufacturing accounted for 170,000 employees in the rise. Despite this increase, however. manufacturing, employment in Texas is still small in relation to the national total. In addition, it constitutes only a relatively slight proportion of the Texas economy. About 20 per cent of our State's total non-agricultural employment is in manufacturing, as compared to a national total of 33 per

In short, it appears that Texas has taken great strides to diversify its sources of income but yet has a way to go in manufacturing many of its o w n products. This increase in finishing our goods for market is a healthy sign and will help stabilize an economy that once was at the mercy of every break in farm prices.

Unemployment, as measured by the volume of claims for insurance benefits, has increased much less over the past year in Texas than elsewhere in the country.

There are other economic indicators, too. Since 1940 the production of electrical energy has risen much more sharply in Texas than it has in the country

CONGRESSIONAL MAIL

Every day your Representative receives an average of about 100 letters. This seems to be some: what above the usual run of mail count. This mail, moreover, as far as legislation is concerned can generally placed in two classifications -spontaneous mail and prompted or instigated mail.

The instigated mail is generally easy to detect. It's well timed. It comes as legislation nears a crucial stage along the course toward passage or rejection. Often the letters are identical, just with different names signed. Sometimes these names are signed in the same handwriting. Some even go so far as to sign their names and then give their poll tax number. That makes me wonder what the inference could be.

Then there's the "easy mail." That's when instigators of the campaign provide printed postcards, form messages, etc., calling for particular legislation. All the citizen has to do here is sign his name, and drop the memo in the nearest mail box. One of the cleverest of such form requests was printed on a paper bag. It requested Congress to support certain legislation and not leave the writer holding the bag.

The spontaneous mail is the kind a member looks forward to receiving. That's the kind where someone who has an opinion on a certain piece of legislation sits down, writes his Congressman and tells him how the writer feels about all this. No one has asked him to write. He's not a pressure writer. He just wants to let the Representative know his point of view - and it's always appreciated.

COMMUNISM IN WASHINGTON

About the only underground movement not yet investigated in Washington is the Senate railway.

Red cedar wood is used most commonly in making lead pencils. Ships weigh less when traveling east than when traveling west.

OU HARDLY KNOW THE ROAD IS THERE!"

JOU won't be the first to say that -not by a long shot.

One of the first things you notice, when you step from another make of car into Buick, is the wonderful difference in the Buick ride.

There are good technical reasons, if they interest you . . .

Soft coil springs all around, the gentlest type of spring man knows how to make.

A stout torque-tube, acting like the husky keel of a battleship to steady the whole carriage.

Low-pressure tires on wide, Safery-Ride rims, that stop heel-over and sway on curves.

Firm, sure, quick-acting shock absorbers, promptly snubbing the afterbounce of the bigger bumps.

The important thing is what these all add up to.

Freedom at last from jounce and jiggle. A level, floating, road-free passage over almost any kind of road, with even the woest of them

Add Fireball power to all this-the roominess of wide, deep seatsthe lightness of Buick controls and the liquid silkiness of Dynaflow Drive*-and you have a car just too good to miss.

Come try one, won't you? Your Buick dealer will be delighted to demonstrate without obligation delighted to show you that if you can afford a new car, you probably can afford a Buick.

Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SUPER models.
